Federated Men's Clubs Banquet

The Federated Men's Clubs of the city held their second annual softball banquet last evening in the Albany Avenue Baptist Church. Approximately 125 men were present from the different churches of the city and from the surrounding communities.

The program was off to a flying start when the City Relief Orchestra of 13 pieces under the direction of Sal Cast opened with several stirring marches. All through the dinner this group of musicians furnished some excellent and well-played numbers which, judging from the applause, were greatly appreciated by the assembly.

Gordon Craig, president of the Federation, presided over the banquet and introduced the speaker of the evening, Major Savercool, of the West Park Mission. The Major gave an extremely interesting account of the work that is being done at this institution which occupies the former Colonel Payne Estate, some 500 acres of land containing about 22 buildings. This mission is under the direction of the Episcopal Church and takes care of many of the welfare cases of New York city, but the Major pointed out that almost 95 per cent of the cases handled by the Mission were services to people who were not of the Episcopal faith. Several stories related by the speaker impressed on the minds of the listeners that many fortunate people have no idea of the misery and suffering which is going on in the world about us. The place at West Park takes care of young boys and men, being equipped to bring the patients back to health and to give them a start on a new life. In his closing remarks Major Savercool made an offer to the clubs of this vicinity to make some arrangements to take care of some unfortunate that that particular club had an interest in, and he appealed to the clubs and to the individual for any articles that the members might wish to dispose of that might be of some good to the mission, stating that the truck from the place would be only too glad to call for any donations at the donors' convenience.

After Major Savercool had finished his talk, the men had the pleasure of watching Fred Van Deusen perform some of the latest acquisitions to his bag of tricks. The magician entered a wedge of merriment into

HELD IN TRIPLE SLAYING

Pascali Boyer, alias George L. Rutledge, 31 (center), was held in Salt Lake City for the slaying of three persons. his act when he demonstrated with 10 cards just how Postmaster General James Farley reduced his staff of assistants from 10 members to five; the original staff having five Republicans and five Democrats, and Mr. Farley wanted to be fair in his dealings with his office force.

The final part of the program consisted of the presentation of the trophy to the East Kingston Club for having won the championship of the softball league in their play-off series with the Albany Avenue Baptist Club. Before the close of the banquet, the men gave a rising vote of thanks to the Christian Endeavor Society of the Albany Avenue Church for the splendid dinner that they had prepared for the Federation. Then Gordon Craig announced that the second annual softball banquet was ended and the orchestra played "The Stars and Stripes Forever."

JAMAICA MOTORCYCLE CLUB GUEST OF KINGSTON CLUB

Sunday afternoon and evening the Kingston Motorcycle Club entertained 14 riders of the Jamaica Club, also guests from Jersey, at Pratt Boice's camp, Lake Katrine. A most enjoyable time was had. Refreshments were served and members of both clubs gave exhibitions of their skill in hill climbing, stunt riding and racing.

WARLIKE HABITS OF BUTTERFLIES BARED

Some Show No Hesitation in Attacking Birds.

Washington.—Butterflies are not pacifists. Boldness and pugnacity are mingled in species whose habits have been studied intensively by Austin H. Clark, Smithsonian Institution biologist. Some of the smallest species are among the most impetuous and warlike.

Thus, Mr. Clark observes, the little buckeye butterfly, common after midsummer in northeastern United States, will fearlessly attack wasps, bees, large flies, and butterflies much larger than itself. They will assault any other insect that passes within six or eight feet of them as they sit upon the ground.

Involved in Constant Feuds.

"They are very quarrelsome among themselves," Mr. Clark says. "There is a constant feud between them and the males of the pearl crescent butterfly, which swarm in winter spots along the roads."

"Perhaps the most interesting peculiarity of the buckeye is its intense dislike for the common Carolina locust. If one of these clumsy insects jumps up and takes to flight and there is a male buckeye near, the latter at once gives chase, flying behind, or on either side of it, but always keeping from two to four inches away. If the locust alights on the road, the butterfly alights simultaneously four or five inches to one side and slowly waves its wings in a menacing fashion. If the persecuted locust takes off again the butterfly is after it once more. If a locust pursued by a buckeye passes within 10 feet or so of another buckeye, the second will join in the pursuit, and sometimes a third will join. "A Carolina locust pursued by a buckeye and trying to escape is a sight that may be witnessed a hundred times a day wherever the two insects are common."

Pearl Crescent a Fighter.

Another fighter, Mr. Clark finds, is the pearl crescent, one of the commonest butterflies in weedy fields. It will dart viciously at larger grasshoppers, flies, bees, and especially at the larger brown butterflies, against which it seems to maintain a special animosity.

Some common butterflies, Mr. Clark says, have no hesitation in attacking birds. One of these is the Camberwell beauty, which he describes as "bold, pugnacious, and aggressive. When two meet they will often rise battling to a height of 20 feet or more. In the open it will dart viciously at the larger dragonflies that venture too near the willows on which it rests, and will also dart at the smaller birds, sending them to cover."

The only other butterfly that habitually attacks birds is the common "milk-weed butterfly," which normally is one of the most peaceful in disposition of all its race. Between males of this species there are only feeble, half-hearted fights; but it entertains a special animosity for hummingbirds. "In spite of its essentially peaceful disposition," Mr. Clark says, "it is not without courage, for it will attack most viciously a hummingbird so incautious as to approach too near the flower on which it is feeding, always badly frightening the bird, which makes off in a straight line as fast as possible."

Woman Heads Bureau of Criminal Identification

Indianapolis.—A comely, thirty-two-year-old blond, the first woman ever to head a state police bureau of criminal identification, lifted her eyes from a microscope and smilingly remarked that the field in criminal identification work is unlimited for women.

She is Marie Grott, who aided in identifying John Dillinger, late unrepentant outlaw, when he was captured with members of his gang at Tucson, Ariz., in 1933.

Beaming with delight over her appointment, Miss Grott smoothed her dark locks and surveyed the huge steel cabinets which contain 100,000 fingerprints and Bertillon records. She was engaged in classifying additional prints.

Just beyond the massive files sat two young men and a stenographer, the only other members of the department now undergoing revision in a state police shakeup. Both men, far more experienced in years, are openly proud of their new chief.

Miss Grott started in the department as a clerk five years ago.

Viking's Boat, 1,000 Years Old, Is Found in Grave

Uppsala, Sweden.—A 1,000-year-old Viking boat, containing the skeletons of a woman, a horse, and a dog, has been unearthed in a boat grave near here, and, according to archeologists of Uppsala university, is the best preserved find of its kind ever made in Sweden.

In addition to the skeletons the boat contained finely carved wooden vessels, food, a ring of gold wire, a steering oar, and bells.

The horse and dog had been killed before their burial, according to the archeologists, to accompany the woman on her last journey.

Church Built for $11

McClintockville, Pa.—It took three years to build the new Free Methodist church here but it cost only $11. The church was constructed by persons donating their services free, using equipment and material furnished by industrial concerns.

Natives in India often carry torches for protection while traveling at night, for the sudden flare serves to frighten and blind wild beasts.

Peter Ballantine lifted his glass 3 times

TIME: 1840. Place, Peter Ballantine's brewery in Newark... The founder and brewmaster himself had just completed his three-fold test of a keg of ripened ale, and pronounced it "per-r-r-ect!"

Being a Scot, he trusted his taste for ale. "It ha' the PUR-R-R-ITY, the BODY, the FLAVOR-R-R," was his thoughtful verdict.

On the table were three moisture rings left by his glass as he made the tests.

"Thr-r-ree tests—thr-r-ree rings—the sign of good ale," he mused. "Lads, I ha' my trademark! Ye'll put the thr-r-ree rings of quality on every keg."

New Paltz Normal School Activities

Eva Lund spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lund, at Hopewell Junction.

The Chapel Choir, a theatrical organization of the school presented a play entitled "The Case of the Kittenish Corpse" written by William Heltzman, a student of the Normal, in chapel on Tuesday morning. The cast was as follows: Mr. Rosenzweig, Andy Thompson; Maria, Helen Norris; Susan Davenport, May B. Chambers; Mrs. Rosenzweig, Anne Mathews; Willie Rosenzweig, Henry Joslyn; Shylock Holmes, Jack Grunin; Dr. Watson, Clifford Van Valkenberg. The personnel consisted of the following: Stage manager, Oliver Murray; publicity, William Chazanoff; properties, Cornelia Schoonmaker; director, William Heltzman; author, William Heltzman. The program also consisted of singing by Eleanor Schermerhorn, a duet by Jane Wood and Mary Cross and a tap dance by Betty Leonard.

The women's tennis tournament will be held this week. The freshman soccer team is being chosen.

Some of the students who have been doing some outstanding scoring this year in archery are: Ethel Angyl, Rita Eranisous, Helen Lang, Doris Todd, Esther Brophy, Hope Finger, Eva Lund, Esther Weiss, Arylene Depew and Emily Gregg.

Mrs. Merritt has succeeded Mr. Taylor as supervisor of the seventh grade.

The Inter-Fraternity Council held its regular meeting on Monday.

The following officers for the first semester were elected. They are: President, Harold Follette; secretary, Edward Doolan; rushing rules were discussed and the proposed constitution for the council was adopted. Membership in the council is as follows: Delphi Fraternity, Harold Follette, Clifford Van Valkenberg, William Heltzman, Tri-Kappa Fraternity, Frank Brantley, Edward Doolan and Marshall Fairlie. Glen T. Fraser is the faculty advisor.

The Epitaph Club held its meeting on Friday.

The men's fall tennis tournament is coming to a close, the quarterly finals is complete, waiting only for the playing off of the Tom Murray and John Heelan match, the other men in the quarter finals are Dever and Marshall Fairlie, the winner of the Dever-Fairlie match will play the winner of the Murray-Heelan match for championship.

The horseshoe tourney has been progressing rapidly, the second round has been completed and the play is now in the quarter final round.

The Tri-Kappa fraternity was host at their weekly dinner Wednesday evening to the following members of the faculty: Dr. and Mrs. Roland G. Will, Miss Emily Liebergall and Miss Rebecca McKenna. Following the dinner the Fraternity Glee Club entertained with vocal selections.

They have made this weekly dinner a feature of the school's social program, each week various members of the faculty are to be guests at these functions.

The first number of the Lyceum course was given in the Normal Auditorium Tuesday evening, October 15, when the Biart Symphony Orchestra presented the following program: "Sarasband," Handel; "Minuet," Valentin; "Garotte," Bach; Symphony D-Major (La Chasse), Haydn; I. Introduction (Adagio), allegro; II. Andante; III. Minuet; IV. Presto (La Chasse). Invitation to the Dance, von Weber; Albumblatt, Wagner; Capriccio (Scherzo), Op. 16, No. 2, Mendelssohn; Intermission. For flute, oboe, clarinet, horn and bassoon: Musette, Katherine K. Davis. ## Parent-Teacher Associations

E. R. Van Kleeck Speaks.

Highland, Oct. 17.—E. R. Van Kleeck, superintendent of the Walden schools, spoke at the P-T A meeting Monday evening on "How the Home can Work with the School," and made these points stand out in his talk: The cooperation of the home and school is vitally necessary to advance the welfare of boys and girls. Home must understand school policies, there must be an intelligent interest on the part of parents to stimulate the school and the P-T A affords means of getting parent and teacher together, encouragement to child to produce high scholarship, through report cards carefully studied, personal examples, public recognition.

The business meeting previous to the talk was presided over by the president, Mrs. Emma Bradt, and it was decided to change the date of the next meeting to November 18, since the regular date falls on Armistice Day. At the November meeting the Agricultural and Commercial branches of school will explain their work. The chairman of the various committees were made known: Finance, Mrs. Lorin Abrams, membership, Mrs. Bertram Cottine, publicity, Mrs. Gladys D. Mears, program, Mrs. Beatrice Grimm, hospitality, Mrs. Clarence Rathgeb. The reception to the teachers in the central district is to be on October 23, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Rathgeb. There is $20 in prizes to be given at commencement time of which $10 is to be equally divided between the 8th grades and $10 for the high school. The 5th grade won the flag for October.

There were 29 present and the hospitality committee served refreshments at the close of the meeting. The faculty of the school were nearly all present to be ready to make the acquaintance of the parents and the pupils.

Woodstock Activities

Woodstock, Oct. 17.—At the P-T A meeting held recently at Mrs. K. Cleveland's the main feature of the program was a resume of past P-T A achievements, presented by Mrs. Besse Cohn.

The P-T A has worked in several fields, in all of which the organization feels that they have accomplished several very important things. It has sponsored adult education groups, has organized recreation for the children and has been responsible for several improvements in the Woodstock school. During its short lifetime it has arranged lectures by a number of speakers. Among these were: Barnard Joy, county 4-H leader, Mrs. Thompson, Woodstock librarian; Dr. James T. Shotwell, Mrs. Osborne of the Middletown State Hospital; Mrs. Learycraft, Carl Eric Lindin, Mrs. Marion Bullard, Dr. Lambert, the Rev. William Peckham, Miss Florence Webster, Mrs. Dederick of the National P-T A organization.

In its first year the P-T A gave $50 to the school for the purchase of books. Later $10 more was given to Miss Esther McKeel, teacher, for that purpose. The $50 was part of the proceeds given for the benefit of the association. The fence around the school was obtained through the efforts of the P-T A. First aid kits were presented to each building. In 1931 a milk fund was started. Ever since then the P-T A has been able to supply milk to many of the smaller children. At one time as many as half of the children in Miss McKeel's class were supplied with milk from this fund. In the same year a radio was provided for Mrs. Thom's room, a book and $5 was presented to Mr. Elghmey. This year for the first time the subject of a larger school was brought up. The first plans presented were in the form of a consolidated school but this form was later abandoned in favor of a central school. In 1932 the bridge at Sully's Mill was made safe for small children by the addition of wire fencing. This was through the efforts of the P-T A. A concert added $12.25 to the milk fund and more was added later at a lecture by Dr. Shotwell. In the same year the general fund was increased $25 by a Christmas program given by Mrs. Cohn. In 1933 drinking cups and a fountain were presented to the school.

The first delegate from Woodstock attended Mrs. Prabhoo's adult education group in Saugerties. Since that time several members of the P-T A have gone to nearly all meetings. Last year the P-T A even took part in leading one of the meetings. 1933 was a year of lectures for more were held in that year by the P-T A than in any other. In 1934 the meetings were held in the library, where the adult education groups under the direction of Miss Florence Webster were begun. This was the beginning of a number of discussion groups not connected with the P-T A. The high school girls' group was one of these. A food sale and a card party that year were so successful that year that the P-T A was able to arrange organized recreation for a group of children. Parties, baseball basketball were all part of this program. At the same time Sergeant Cunningham spoke to the school children warning them of the danger in sleigh riding on the main highway. At this time Mrs. Cleveland added $12 to the milk fund out of a series of bridge lessons she gave. The present season shows that several things looked into last year by the P-T A have been accomplished. The kindergarten building has been repaired and enlarged, the door in the main building has been changed to swing outward, although the inner door still swings inward. The organization is still working to obtain more fire extinguishers for the school buildings, to obtain better highway protection, and toward getting a better school. It is also hoped that an excursion can be made this spring, taking the school children to the museum in Albany. It had been planned to have an Armistice Day program with Dr. Shotwell as speaker, but as Dr. Shotwell intends to be away at that time it was decided to hold the regular meeting with a program arranged by the executive committee.

WOODSTOCK

Woodstock, Oct. 17.—Over 100 books have been selected from the extension division of the library of the Department of Education in Albany. These books are now available in the Woodstock library. Miss Edith Macomb is mounting and arranging a number of prints which have been acquired from time to time by the library. Miss Louise Driscoll, librarian of the Catskill Library, visited Woodstock recently. At the last trustees' meeting held in the library it was decided not to purchase a furnace at this time. However, the purchase of a new stove was discussed. The book mending committee has been meeting regularly at the library for the repair of books.

A fire broke out late Sunday night in a small building in back of the Jack Mundy and William Pierpont homes. The building, a small chicken coop used for a playhouse, had caught on fire early in the evening. The fire had been thought safely put out at that time but must have smoldered all through the evening and finally broke out at about midnight. The booster tank on the fire engine was able to put out the flames, and no serious damage was done.

Charging for Wild Game or Venison Meals

Albany, Oct. 17 (Special)—Sponsors of game or venison dinners had better make certain they are complying with all the provisions of the conservation law, or they will find themselves in difficulties. This warning was sent out today to all persons by Conservation Commissioner Lithgow Osborne.

It is illegal to charge, directly or indirectly, for such meals, unless the game has been artificially propagated and purchased.

Each year numerous persons or clubs either promote or sponsor dinners of venison or game. They attempt to charge, directly or indirectly, for the meal. If this is done it is a violation of the conservation law and the persons promoting the event are liable to prosecution.

Commissioner Osborne also pointed out that it is a violation of the law for persons legally shooting game or venison to turn it over to restaurants or hotels to be served for a charge, and it is also a violation for hotels or restaurants to charge for venison or non-venison game.

Several court decisions upholding this phase of the law have strengthened the position of the department with relation to prosecutions for such violations.

Gives the thickest, liveliest suds you ever saw!

IT'S DIFFICULT to explain Rinsol whiteness. You have to see it—the snowy brightness of it—the clean, fresh sweetness of it. Even downright dirty clothes come much whiter from a Rinsol soaking. And colors come bright and new-looking. Even stubborn edges need only a little gentle hand rubbing. Clothes washed this safe, "no-scrub" way last longer. You'll save money.

Great in washers

Rinsol gives a lot of soapy, creamy, active suds that last and last—even in hardest water. Recommended by the makers of 34 famous washers. Makes dishwashing and all cleaning quicker and easier. Kind to your hands. Get the BIG package of Rinsol today. Tested and approved by Good Housekeeping Institute.

SEE WELL IN THE DARK...

CHILDREN CAN'T... help your child avoid eyestrain by giving him plenty of light

Long years of night-prowling have enabled the cat to see in semi-darkness. But the eyes of a growing child are still built to see best outdoors in broad daylight.

If your child isn't getting the very best light indoors for reading and homework, he is in danger of serious eyestrain, fatigue and loss of valuable nervous energy.

Yet the cost to maintain comfortable, healthy seeing conditions for you and your children is so little—

Just a few dollars to have eyes examined and defects corrected by the eyesight specialist.

And only a penny or two an evening for proper light—adequate light—glareless and shadowless light.

Preservation of good eyesight is one of the finest investments you can make in human happiness.

Do something about it now—don't wait until your eyes and your children's eyes are seriously damaged—perhaps beyond repair.

Call our lighting service department—we freely offer the services of specialists to check the seeing conditions in your home, at no cost or obligation.

Commends Good Work Of Game Protectors

Albany, Oct. 17.—Two game protectors, one regular and the other a special, were officially commended today by Conservation Commissioner Lithgow Osborne for their work in capturing two alleged automobile thieves. The men who were commended for their work were Protector E. T. Townsend of White Plains and Special Protector Harold Canepi of Yonkers.

The men were on patrol work in the town of North Castle October 9. They had been looking for illegal hunters or fishermen and were proceeding slowly along State Highway Route 22. Hearing shots in the distance they stopped their car and alighted, thinking that some persons had been shooting illegally at game from a cruising machine, which is often done in that section.

In a few seconds a roadster with Connecticut license plates came careening down the road at high speed. The protectors signalled for the occupants to halt. Instead they swerved the car into the ditch, jumped out and ran. The protectors pursued them and after a long chase captured two of the men. They gave their names as James Farrell of Springdale, Conn., and Charles Biggs, Stamford, Conn. The name of the third man who escaped, according to the prisoners, was John Hayes of Springdale. The automobile, a new roadster, belonged to Ludwig K. Moorhead of Smith Ridge, New Canaan, Conn. The vehicle, prisoners and information secured by the protectors were turned over to the North Castle police department.

'Alien' Grasses Sought By Uncle Sam To Carpet Mid-West Dust-Storm Belt

Washington (AP) — Government plant explorers, who have introduced so many new crops to this country, have been on the march again, bringing back from the far ends of the earth strange, alien grasses that some day may dot the American great plains.

A two-year search, in which three expeditions took part, has been ended and now more than 2,200 lots of seeds and plantings, collected from Russian Turkestan and Manchuria, are being carefully tested by department of agriculture scientists to see just how they will stand up under drought, wind, severe heat and cold. If any species shows remarkable toughness it will be reproduced in larger quantities preliminary to possible introduction in the great windswept sections of this country to reduce the devastation of recurring dust storms by binding the soil. Nearly all lots were collected from areas where the life of a plant is very precarious unless it is extraordinarily resistant.

Many Crops Are "Aliens"
Russian Turkestan, Manchuria, the Gobi desert, Persia, Russia, Japan, Afghanistan—all have been hunting grounds at one time or another for Uncle Sam's plant explorers. They "bring 'em back alive" for long experiments here. Specimens brought in are inspected for disease and kept isolated while their development is watched for months, sometimes years. The discovery of one weed valuable as a soil binder from among lots of hundreds is considered a real find, the percentage of success being necessarily so small.

Durum and certain types of hard red spring wheat, now a great commercial crop, were unknown here until a department plant hunter found them in Russia and Siberia years ago and brought back a small bag of seed now translated into millions of bushels of marketable grain annually.

Soybeans, growing now in a wide area, were brought back from the Orient—4,000 strains and types at one time; the date palm came from Mesopotamia, Egypt, Tunis, Algiers and Morocco to establish a new industry in dry American regions. Figs were brought in from the near east; the Chinese elm, providing shade on farms now from Canada to Mexico, was introduced through the efforts of an explorer who sought plants in Asia for years and on one expedition walked more than 10,000 miles, starting in Russia Turkestan and ending on the Pacific.

They Travel Far
Sudan grass is a naturalized alien; so are the navel orange, the Pima long staple cotton and many other important and valuable commercial crops.

The explorers have gone into areas never before penetrated by white men; down the high ranges of the Andes, through heavy jungles, into the almost unknown interior of New Guinea. Sometimes they are called "gene hunters," because on occasion the assignment is to find a plant with a specific genetic character—an alfalfa immune to bacterial wilt, for example. To qualify, they must have studied botany, have a wide technical knowledge, robust health and the ability to get along with wild, and sometimes savage natives in the world's out-of-the-way places.

Claims 54.3 Per Cent Of Land Submarginal

By DR. ROBERT WHITTEN
Consultant, New York State Planning Board

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 17 (AP).—The seriousness of New York state's problem of submarginal farm lands is convincingly set forth in the land classification studies of the State College of Agriculture at Ithaca. To date, land classification lines have been drawn in eight counties dividing the land area into six land classes, each varying in intensity of land use. These are: Steuben, Tompkins, Monroe, Tioga, Broome, Chemung, Montgomery and Rensselaer. Studies are now being made in Genesee, Schuyler, Cortland and Chemung counties. In four south-central counties, Tompkins, Chemung, Tioga and Broome, 732,479 acres or 54.3 per cent of the total area has been found to be submarginal for farming purposes. The best land is in narrow strips in the valleys. The amount of poor land is greatest in Tioga and Chemung counties, although these same counties contain very considerable areas of the most productive valley soils.

ZENA
Zena, Oct. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. John Carnright accompanied Miss Florence Hill on her week-end visit to her folks at Gloversville.

The Misses Nellie and Carrie Carnright with Mrs. Fellows and daughter Eva, all from Newburgh, spent Sunday at the Carnright homestead. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lynch have had a well drilled on their property and were most fortunate in striking a wonderful vein producing 10 gallons of water to the minute. Drilling was done by James Stoutenberg of Glenford.

The Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp. has been busy the last few days bringing power to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lynch and Walter France.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Thalaz and Mr. and Mrs. Ebenett from Catskill spent Sunday visiting in Zena. Miss Theresa Eldenwell and uncle from New York city spent the week-end with her parents here.

Messrs. Edward White and Thomas DeGraff spent the week-end at the White House.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lynch took advantage of the fall excursion last Tuesday to New York city on the Alexander Hamilton and also visited the magnificent new French liner, S. S. Normandie.

Frank Tichenor and Miss Reinhold entertained 18 guests at dinner last Friday evening in honor of their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles Reinhold's birthday.

Mrs. Kaasner and her family have closed their home here for the season and returned to New Jersey and Brooklyn for the winter.

The sacrament of holy communion was celebrated in the Reformed church last Sunday afternoon. The Rev. John Heidenreich, the pastor, officiated.

On Thursday evening, October 24, the ladies of the Church Circle will give a clam chowder supper. Refreshments will begin at 5:30 p. m. until all are served. There will be many other good things to eat besides the chowder. The public is cordially invited to participate the ladies.

BUSHNELLYVILLE
Bushnellville, Oct. 16.—Mrs. Small entertained her daughter and friends from Washington, D. C. Ralph Van Keuren is visiting at Harvey Kelley's.

Miss Florence Smith of Milford, Conn., brought Mrs. Merrill Durham home Saturday. Miss Marion Sturges of Woodmont, Conn., accompanied them. Mr. and Mrs. Leland Newhall entertained Mr. and Mrs. Krum from Wappingers Falls.

Every Woman Knows THAT—

—But a Telephone Can Do So Much to Make It Easier

Children to get off to school... beds to make... dusting to do... marketing to take care of... meals to prepare...! It seems impossible to get an hour or so to yourself.

Yet other women with just as much work to do find time for some rest, reading, an afternoon movie or a visit with a neighbor. Why is it?

You'll have the answer if you get a telephone. It brings the stores to you. Saves going out in bad weather or when you wish you could rest. Makes appointments at beauty parlor and dentist. Lets you take advantage of advertised "specials". It can save you so much time, trouble, footsoreness—and money. Yet less than three nickels a day gives you a telephone at home! Why not order now—at the Business Office, or from any employee?

At The Theatres

Broadway: "Broadway Melody of 1936." The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios turn musical again, seemingly for the express purpose of putting across a young lady by the name of Eleanor Powell, who proves to be about the closest thing to Fred Astaire in this or any other vicinity. In a story of the show business and the "Big White Way," Miss Powell scampers through her dances in an astounding and satisfactory manner, to the lilting tunes of several excellent songs, manufactured by two of Hollywood's best jazz composers. The whole thing is done on a grand scale for nothing has been spared in a financial or directorial way to make this talkie fairly shout with big movie names and expensive settings. Along with Miss Powell, we find such gracious performers as June Knight, Una Merkel and the Albertina Rausch Ballet, which incidentally contributes one of the most beautiful chorus numbers ever witnessed on any screen. Jack Benny of radio fame, Buddy and Vilma Ebsen of the stage, the petit songster, Frances Langford, Robert Taylor, Nick Long, Jr., Sid Silvers and Harry Stockwell are among the featured players in a cast numbering hundreds. You will like the comedy dancing of the Ebsen duo, and the work of Jack Benny is excellent. A don't miss musical extravaganza.

Orpheum: "It Happened in New York" and "Behind Green Lights." The first offering of this double feature bill stars Lyle Talbot as a taxi driver who is in love with Heather Angel. Hugh O'Connell supplies the comedy while Gertrude Michael helps with the love interest. "Behind Green Lights" stars Judith Allen, wife of the Irish heavyweight, Jack Doyle.

Kingston: "Smilin' Through" and "Super Speed." The screen's most beautifully done tear jerker comes back to the Kingston screen in the first picture on the double feature bill, a story so charming and simple in its telling that the tragedy of a broken love is forgotten in the quality of the acting, for Norma Shearer, Leslie Howard and Fredric March all contribute as fine performers as anything ever given to the screen. Although this romantic tragedy has been done on the screen many times before, it will never lose its appeal or its popularity. "Super Speed" is the second full length attraction, a racing, roaring melodrama that features Norman Foster along with a capable cast of lesser performers.

Tomorrow:
Broadway: Same.

Orpheum: "Man on the Flying Trapeze" and "Local Bad Man." W. C. Fields does some grand comedy work in the opening attraction, and he has to because there is no story to work with and the picture proves Mr. Fields capable of entertaining his audience even though such a small item as a plot is left out of the studio script. The show is a jumble of numerous happenings, with wrestling matches, domestic unrest, and burglary all mixed into the film for no special reason. "Local Bad Man" brings the veteran western star Hoot Gibson in another wild and exciting tale of adventure and romance in the days when the west was young.

Kingston: Same.

SOUTHERN ACCENT LEADS TO LONG-LOST BROTHER

Van Nuys, Calif. (AP)—A chance remark brought about a reunion of Mrs. Peggy Petersen, Van Nuys cafe operator, and her brother, J. O. Williamson, cameraman, after they had not seen each other since separated as children at New Orleans 15 years ago.

Elmer Dyer, another cameraman and friend of Williamson, had dinner at Mrs. Petersen's restaurant and remarked:

"Your southern accent is exactly like that of a friend of mine—Jimmy Williamson."

"My long lost brother," Mrs. Petersen exclaimed.

So Dyer arranged a meeting.

Striped Pole To Warn Flyers
Palo Alto, Calif. (AP)—To reduce the hazard to aviation, a 626-foot commercial wireless mast which lies close to the San Francisco-Los Angeles air route and only a few miles from Moffett Field, Sunnyvale, will be painted in alternate stripes of orange and white.

500-Barrel Oil Well
Bakersfield, Calif. (AP)—The year's biggest yield from an oil well in Kern county's Edison field was obtained from a depth of only 1,310 feet. The whole came in as a 500-barrel well.

Eleven Fail in Test For Policeman Here

Wednesday night 32 applicants for the job of policeman were examined by Dr. Chester B. Van Gansbeek and Dr. C. L. Gannon, acting for the Municipal Civil Service Board, and of that number 11 were rejected as failing to pass the physical test. The majority of the rejections were due to the fact that the applicant did not meet the required height of 5 feet 3 inches.

The physical examinations were held in the rooms of the Board of Health at the city hall.

The mental examination for those who passed the physical test will be held Friday evening at 7:10 o'clock at the Kingston High School.

The money, in bills, came in an envelope marked "personal." Included was a letter.

"Just returned to Oklahoma after having been away for some time, and looked you up. Some years ago I borrowed (not to your knowledge) $100. Have had a very hard time all these years trying to make a living for myself and family, but have finally managed to save enough to repay you so I am enclosing $200 in currency." The letter was signed "A Friend."

Harris said he could not recall theft of the money.

Some people complain so much about the weather that it might serve them right if it were discontinued.

Doctor (beaming at his new patient)—Well, my dear sir, I support you followed my prescription?
Patient—Good gracious, no, doctor. I should have broken my neck if I had.

Doctor (staggering back)—Eh, what?
Patient—The other doctor who came to look at me threw it out of my bedroom window.

Abound on Desert Land
Dilettante, French Semiland.—The Mediterranean offers fresh breezes and gently smoking volcanoes to its visitors: the Red sea, conscious of an unenviable reputation, concentrates on sharks and prickly heat. It stinks on neither.

Of the two, the sharks are preferable. They swim lazily around the ship at anchor or in motion. They take only bait thrown overboard, then sometimes quietly bite the line—as each rope—in two and make off with hook and all.

The sharks out luxurious native swimmers, but they do not come aboard ship. The prickly heat does. It takes up residence on any part of the body.

"Look there!" Polly shouts (the Indian's going higher).
"That looks like the smoke from a big steam ship!"
"It is, so it is," cries the man in sheep.
The ship's dark with smoke—will it come to come home?

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS &amp; SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—Even Samuel Goldwyn, who can take bows for "discovering" Walter Brennan, was a bit tardy about it.

From virtual obscurity to a position as Hollywood's most sought after comedian of the moment was a quick jump for this quiet, modest "family man" with the map of Ireland on his face. A quick jump, that is, if you overlook the Walter Brennan preceding twelve years during which he worked as pictures, sometimes made fair money, and often "missed many a meal."

Brennan, who is 41 and looks younger, makes his big hit as the shambling old scamp "Old Acquaintance" of Goldwyn's "Barbarian Coast." In person he looks nothing like that bedraggled, toothless rascal, and yet he uses very little make-up. Out of character, he might be taken for a neatly-dressed, well-spoken bond salesman.

When they first came to Los Angeles, Brennan prospered in real estate, then lost all his profits. He went around to the movie studios. When he couldn't get acting work, he would do stunts. Once he drove a car, 40 miles an hour off a 25-foot pier into the ocean. "I wasn't a stunt man," he says, "because stunt men know what they're doing. I just had to make some money."

"Natural" Comedy
He plays his characters for "eccentricity" rather than for laughs. "If you try to be funny, you're lost," he says. He has had a tough time convincing casters he could play old men. Once before he thought he had made the grade—when he played nine different roles in "The King of Jazz." But most of it was cut. That is why he is still uncut, even with a contract, that he has arrived.

When they first came to Los Angeles, Brennan prospered in real estate, then lost all his profits. He went around to the movie studios. When he couldn't get acting work, he would do stunts. Once he drove a car, 40 miles an hour off a 25-foot pier into the ocean. "I wasn't a stunt man," he says, "because stunt men know what they're doing. I just had to make some money."

True Friend, Friendship.
Webster defines a friend as "one who entertains for another such sentiments of esteem, respect and affection that he seeks his society and welfare; a well-wisher, an intimate associate."

Cherco: "A friend is, as it were, a second self; you must, therefore, love me myself, and not my circumstances. If we are to be friends," George Eliot: "Animals are such agreeable friends; they ask no questions; they pass no criticisms;—best friend, my well-spring in the wilderness." Claud Lierman: "Friends are like welcome. Shall I tell you why? To find one good, you must a hundred try." Pollock: "Friends given by God in mercy and in love; my counselors, my comforters and guides; my joy in grief, my second bliss in joy." Sophocles: "For who ever knows how to return a kindness has received more than a friend above all price." J. C. and A. W. Hare: "Friendship is love without either favors or will." Homer: "A great friendship is a cold medium known." La Bruyere: "True friendship is something which none of us inferior intellect can ever taste."

Seneca: "Friendship always benefits; love sometimes injures." George Washington: "True friendship is a plant of slow growth, and must undergo and withstand the shocks of adversity, before it is entitled to the appellation."

Camel-Style Bridge
The camel style bridge, built in the days when the Crusaders were something more than an anti-Semitic mob, spans the White Nile river in northern Africa, a country that traveling Americans very seldom see because it is so far from London and Paris. The bridge was the world's original camel bridge, and it should be to have inspired the writers of the camel style bridge that had built in this country.

KING CAROL MAY DROP LUPESCU

Mrs. Magda Lupescu, intimate friend and political advisor of King Carol of Rumania (both shown above), has had criticism heaped upon her head by the Rumanian peasant party, with subsequent rumors that Carol will drop her to restore political peace in his country. It has been rumored also that Carol may marry again soon. (Associated Press Photos)

Boon-Doggling Lame.
Rochester, N. Y.—There is a limit even to Boon-Doggling, City Manager Harold W. Baker ruled.
He put his foot on a proposal to provide work relief by furnishing a corps of professional mourners to aid bereaved families, act as pallbearers if necessary and complete funeral home arrangements.

St. Saviour Something.
New York—The delicatessens will prosper. The Hotel Brevoort, 52-year-old shrine of Fifth Avenue gourmets, is to be torn down and replaced with a nine-story apartment dwelling.

Celebration.
Denver—Mrs. Sarah T. Worman believes that mother knows best how to arrange an enjoyable birthday party for her children, so she came to Denver from Chicago to help her son, Thomas, celebrate his birthday October 27. He will be 80. She is 100.

Goodbye Again.
Victoria, B. C.—"Bon Voyage," said Lieut. Gov. Victor Meyers of Washington to the congressional group leaving Seattle for the Orient on the S. S. President Grant.
"The same to you," grinned one Meyers found the ship already at sea. He got off here.

Latest Identification.
Paris, Ill.—Another suggestion made at a mass meeting to take steps to curb cattle rustlers in the state was offered by R. C. Saunders. It was that "nose prints" of the cattle be taken to be used in checking suspected arrivals at the stockyards. He said they worked like finger print records of criminals. No immediate action was taken on the suggestion.

RIFTON

Rifton, Oct. 16.—Miss Gabrielle Favier has left for New York city, where she has taken a position for the winter.

Louis May motored to Brooklyn and return on Thursday of last week.

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. Alice Aronstam entertained several friends at a bridge party.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clements, also Charles Schikler of New York city, were week-end guests of the Misses Mollie and Dorothy Schikler of Maple street.

Mrs. Martha Noll was pleasantly surprised on Saturday by a week-end visit from her son, his wife and daughter, of Newark, N. J.

Gene Pacifico and a party of friends were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Favier of the French farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Phillips entertained Mr. Phillips' parents of Brooklyn over the week-end.

The members of the Ladies' Aid Society are reminded once more of the special meeting to be held Thursday evening, October 17, at the home of Mrs. Paul Bailey, and it is hoped every member will attend as final details for the annual children's paper to be held at Rifton Hall on October 26 will be discussed.

Mrs. William Walker has just returned from a week's vacation in Brooklyn.

The Junior Order of American Mechanics hope that all their friends will not forget to attend the picnic-party which they are holding at Rifton Hall on Monday, October 21, at 10 o'clock. They are desirous of having a large attendance and assure all who come a very pleasant social evening.

Eric Winkler spent several days visiting friends in New York city last week.

David Anderson spent the week-end at his home here.

Mrs. William Vanderkolk had several guests over the week-end. Sunday School will meet at the usual hour, 2 o'clock, next Sunday morning, following the Thanksgiving service, the Rev. Mr. Butler, officiating. Everybody is welcome.

AIRPLANE TRAVEL PLANNED FOR COLORADO GUIDDERS

Gunnison Colo. (AP)—The football team of little Western State College high up in western Colorado's mountain country, may be the first in the history of the Rocky Mountain conference to fly to a football game. College athletic officials are studying a suggestion that the players be flown in two chartered airplanes to Golden for their contest with Colorado School of Mines on November 16.

If the plan is approved, Western State will be one of the few teams in the country to use planes for game transportation.

WANT TO REDUCE? Then Try Referee's Job in a Football Game

Portland, Ore. (AP)—Aside from the bumps, a football official works harder in a game than the players do, declares Tom Louttit of Portland, veteran Pacific coast league official.
"He runs farther on almost every play than any player, and during the entire game he outdistances every player. An official is out there trying just as hard as the players to make the game a success," Louttit says.

One of his hardest games, Louttit recalls was the University of Idaho-Southern California game at Los Angeles in 1924.
"The temperature was 94 degrees in the shade. There was little wind in the stadium. I was in good condition but lost 11 pounds refereeing the contest."

Angler Proves Story.
Springfield, Colo. (AP)—John Barco, a school janitor, went back a second time to Butten Lake north of here, just to prove there are big fish there. On his first trip he caught a catfish weighing 22 pounds. Old-timers lifted an eyebrow and vowed it was the only "big un" in the lake. Barco went back and this time hooked an 18 pounder. He used small perch for bait.

Captain Ashley of Boiceville CCC Camp At Rotary Meeting

Captain Sprague W. Ashley, in charge of the Boiceville CCC camp, gave a very interesting talk about the camp to the members of Kingston Rotary at their mid-week meeting on Wednesday.

Captain Ashley outlined briefly how the camp was kept and what the boys did. He stressed three points that were always kept in mind. First, and most important, was cleanliness and sanitation. Second was the importance of keeping the boys happy and contented and last was about the high standard of morals maintained at all times.

When boys enrolled and first arrived at camp they were put through a physical examination. A general meeting was then held and the boys met the Captain who explained that life at the camp was one of general cooperation and that every one would get a fair deal. In this way their confidence was gained and they were started on the right path.

Cleanliness predominates throughout the camp and all new boys who arrive and who were not in the habit of taking plenty of baths were attended to by the other enrollees and were unceremoniously tossed into a shower without being allowed the formality of removing their clothes. At Boiceville the first thing a boy learns is how to keep clean. The barracks are immaculate. Captain Ashley said that the Boiceville Camp holds the banner in New York state for cleanliness. There are five barracks at the camp and each one competes with the other. Members of the barracks which have been judged the cleanest at the end of the month receive a turkey dinner with a barrel of beer thrown in.

Second in importance to cleanliness is keeping the boys happy and contented. A lot of the boys go in for dramatics and have built their own stage using old tents that have been discarded for their curtain and scenery. Every Wednesday night they are entertained with a full length movie and every three weeks some professional vaudeville acts are presented.

There is also a library with 1,900 volumes that have been presented to the camp through the generosity of outsiders, many of them Kingston people. Captain Ashley took the opportunity to thank the people through the Rotary Club, for their generous gifts.

The third point in the captain's talk dealt with the actual living conditions of the boys. There are 40 boys living together in each barracks. Each barracks is under the supervision of a leader. Inspections are held every day and at five o'clock in the afternoon the boys are inspected in preparation for dinner. Hands must be clean and ties must be worn. During the day the boys leave the camp at 8 o'clock and return at twelve four and five in the evening. Six hours an day half are used in actual work on projects which are at hand. At present the boys are working to eliminate the gypsy moth and to construct fire traps on the mountain sides. Some of the boys are working on construction projects at Mt. Tremper.

Captain Ashley closed his talk by saying that his boys were not being taught to be soldiers, as many outsiders seem to think, but that they are taught to be men.

The meeting was then thrown open for discussion and many questions were answered by the captain. He also cordially invited the members of Rotary to visit the camp and stay for dinner.

Guests present at the meeting were Fred Stang of Walkkill and Henry Osterhout of Kingston.

Services Announced For Temple Emanuel

Services will be held at Temple Emanuel on Friday evening, October 18, at 7:30. Rabbi Bloom will preach on the theme "A Definition of Judaism." The discourse will deal with an analysis of Judaism as contrasted with other religions. It will form the first of a series on aspects of Jewish thought. The public is cordially invited.

On Saturday morning at 10:15 the Bible class will be held at residence of Rabbi Bloom, 225 Main street. On Sunday morning at 9 o'clock, Temple Emanuel Hebrew School will be held on Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

On Wednesday, October 23, the Sisterhood of Temple Emanuel will conduct a breakfast dinner from five to eight o'clock.

There are several requirements and "don'ts" the hunter should know. A hunting, trapping and fishing license is required to legally hunt. The license must be carried on the person when afield and the button that is issued with the license must be worn in plain sight.

Piles Go Quick

Without Surgery or Cutting.

Thousands of millions from Berlin, London or Paris have been cured of hemorrhoids and piles by the use of the "Pile Cure" without surgery or cutting. The "Pile Cure" is a simple, safe, and effective remedy for hemorrhoids and piles. It is made of natural ingredients and is completely non-toxic. It is the only remedy that has been used for centuries and is still the most effective remedy for hemorrhoids and piles.

Dr. J. S. Lumbard was the first to discover the "Pile Cure" and he has since been the only one to make it. He has been the only one to make it and he has been the only one to make it.

CALIFORNIA STATE HAS 85TH BIRTHDAY

Colorful Periods in U. S. History Are Recalled.

Washington, D. C.—America's first push of statehood to the Pacific, signified by California's admission to the Union in 1850, and marking one of the young nation's early steps toward becoming an ocean-to-ocean power, is 85 years old.

"California has been celebrating the eighty-fifth year of its attainment of statehood with Admission day, a state holiday, but the occasion also recalls one of the most important and colorful periods in the history of the United States as a whole," says the National Geographic Society.

"Gold rush days, the opening of the great West, and establishment of a full-fledged state government on the Pacific coast all belong to the era of 85 years ago.

"When California was admitted to the Union in 1850, it meant a long jump. The nearest state to California was Texas. California was a sort of outlying 'island' surrounded by vast territories which in some cases were not organized into states until as much as 60 years later.

"In fact California was believed to be an actual island or group of islands in early Spanish times before it had been much explored. Though its coast was touched in 1542-43 by Spanish navigators, California was not settled until 1769. Spain then added it to her Mexican territory to forestall occupation by England or Russia.

"Distance and sparseness of settlement kept California from ever developing close ties either to Spain or to Mexico. Many Americans went to California to settle, and there was strong sentiment for annexing California to the United States both among these immigrants and among Americans at home, where the doctrine of the 'manifest destiny' of American westward expansion was taking hold.

Gold and the Mexican War.

"Gold and the Mexican war made California a part of the United States. Not long after the declaration of war on Mexico, American forces in California hoisted the United States flag, and the area was formally ceded to this country on February 2, 1848, under the treaty of peace. Mexico also ceded territory that now includes Nevada, Utah, Arizona, New Mexico, and part of Colorado, receiving in return a cash payment of $16,250,000.

"Only a few days before California was ceded to the United States, James W. Marshall had made his famous discovery of gold at Sutter's mill on the American river near Coloma. In a few weeks the California gold rush was on. By the end of 1849 it is estimated that 80,000 men had flocked to California. The large majority of them were Americans, and the territory became American in fact as well as in name.

"Meanwhile the slavery question was coming to the fore. The Union had a balance of 15 slave states and 15 free. When California began preparing to seek statehood, there were strong efforts to make it a slave state, but when its constitution was framed slavery was prohibited. California was admitted to the Union September 9, 1850.

"California has made phenomenal progress since the days of '49, when red-shirted gold miners kept order by rough and ready methods and there were fewer people in the whole state than live today in the state's capital city, Sacramento.

"Oil and oranges now have an annual value greater than the gold that is dug each year from California mines. Recently, however, there has been a revival of interest in gold mining, and many of the unemployed have made a few dollars a day by primitive mining methods resembling those used by the 'Forty-Niners.'

A State of Many 'Firsts.'

"Second in area among all the 48 states, California is first in many things. It has the highest mountains in the United States outside Alaska—Mt. Whitney—and the lowest point in the country—Death valley. Its motion picture industry leads the world. It has the world's largest telescope, the 100-inch instrument at Mt. Wilson observatory of the Carnegie Institution. The new huge 200-inch telescope of the California Institute of Technology will be mounted on Mt. Palomar in the southern part of the state.

"Los Angeles, with its suburbs, covers more territory than any other city in the United States, though it is fifth in population. Many of California's famous big trees, the sequoias, are older than the pyramids.

"California leads all states in irrigation, which has turned vast areas of its arid land into rich fruit and vegetable farms. It produces all the oranges used in the United States, and most of the grapes."

"Out of Gas" Is Latest Angle in Hitch Hiking

Fargo, N. D.—G. A. Fraser, former adjutant general of North Dakota, reports the latest in hitch-hiking technique.

He met a young, well dressed man walking and looking a genuine car. Fraser offered him a ride. When they reached a town Fraser asked the youth if he was going to get some gas.

"Yes," the young man replied, "I haven't a car."

"What's the car for?" asked Fraser.

"That's the only way to get a ride nowadays. I've tried this one all the way from Seattle."

Diminishing Cold Storage Food Stocks

Albany, Oct. 17.—(Special)—

Diminishing supplies of many foods are revealed in the monthly report of cold storage holdings compiled the fifteenth of each month by the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets released today. The report shows more vegetables and butter in storage on October 1 than at the same date last year but lower stocks of apples, cheese and meats.

The supply of apples is reported at 2,349,465 bushels compared with 2,888,176 bushels on October 1, 1934. Supplies of cold pack cherries are 10,889,644 pounds compared with 12,738,764 pounds in September and 7,493,089 pounds a year ago, while stocks of other fruits increased from 4,328,272 pounds in September to 10,082,507 pounds in October.

The largest increase in the vegetable group is in onions with 17,802,139 pounds in storage on October 1 compared with 1,782,375 pounds in September and none a year ago. Supplies of celery increased from 19,302 two-thirds crates a year ago to 37,185 two-thirds crates in October; stocks of carrots from 1,082,000 pounds last year to 2,702,410 pounds; and other vegetables from 2,788,289 pounds last October to 3,112,024 pounds this year.

Using Butter and Cheese.

Supplies of butter are reported at 15,815,711 pounds compared with 17,069,474 pounds in September and 10,433,650 pounds a year ago. American cheese stock decreased from 15,848,024 pounds last October to 10,705,845 pounds on October 1.

Chickens Scarce.

Stocks of eggs decreased from 731,790 cases on October 1, last year, to 601,214 cases. The supplies of dressed chickens decreased as follows: Broilers from 4,435,483 pounds to 1,384,376 pounds; fryers, from 1,022,686 pounds to 718,719 pounds; roasters from 2,415,679 pounds to 1,698,705 pounds; and fowls from 3,706,025 pounds to 943,955. Stocks of turkeys, however, increased from 1,239,924 pounds to 2,284,937 pounds and of ducks from 920,824 pounds to 1,294,384 pounds in the same period. Frozen beef stocks declined from 4,421,432 pounds a year ago to 3,343,202 pounds on October 1, while supplies of frozen pork declined from 4,313,160 pounds to 2,244,108 pounds, and supplies of lamb from 563,799 pounds to 291,916 pounds in the same period. Frozen fish supplies increased from 8,803,796 pounds in September, 1935, to 10,409,374 pounds in October, while stocks in pickled fish decreased from 8,528,451 pounds a year ago to 4,437,622 pounds on October 1.

WAR BRIEFS

By the Associated Press

Detroit—William J. Cameron, of the Ford Motor Company, said today that the company had halted all exports to the American war area. He explained that the policy had been in force since the outbreak of hostilities between Italy and Ethiopia. There was no statement from Henry Ford, a life-long advocate of world peace.

Adigrat, Ethiopia, (Tuesday, delayed in transmission)—Dagmar Gussé, who came over to the Italian side with 600 men, is becoming accustomed to his new surroundings. He wears a brilliant European general's uniform, which Italian officers have not yet told him to discard. He is speaking Italian and expresses the hope of seeing one day in battle where he can distinguish himself. Then, he says, he wants to go to Rome and see some "high life."

Aduwa, Ethiopia, (Monday, delayed in transmission)—Heard Col. Enrico Ricciardi of the Italian Expeditionary Corps is called the "Hannibal of Africa" because he pushed through a 70-mile road from the frontier to Aduwa in five days.

Barcelona, Spain—The Italian inventor, Guglielmo Marconi, is in Barcelona en route to Genoa where he expects to embark for service with troops in East Africa. He arrived yesterday from Brazil. On the same boat were 491 Italian volunteers from Argentina, Uruguay and Brazil.

Sousse, Tunisia—Military reinforcements have arrived in this French protectorate. The newcomers, two colonial infantry regiments and a squadron of colonial artillery from Morocco, will be spread over the southern and central parts of Tunisia. Nearly 3,000 men are in the new detachments.

Valletta, Malta—A notice saying

Malta merchants no longer will be permitted to export coal from the island, because it is "deemed expedient for the security and defense of these islands," was printed yesterday by the Government Gazette.

Paris—France today heightened her control over foreigners entering French Somaliland by holding the steamship companies responsible for all persons without official authorization to embark at Djibouti, the Red Sea terminus of the railroad to Addis Ababa.

CIANO TELLS TODAY TECHNIQUE OF FIGHTING THE ETHIOPIANS

Asmara, Eritrea, Oct. 17 (AP)—Count Galeazzo Ciano, Mussolini's foreign minister, today discussed on methods of fighting Ethiopians from the air.

"When you see a concentration of Ethiopian troops," said Ciano, minister of press and propaganda in civilian life, "you give them a few rounds with a machine gun. They scatter and hide in the long grass. Then, when you fire a few more rounds at random, each of them thinks the bullets are falling near them. They promptly emerge and run in all directions, then you can pop them off in real earnest."

Red Fox Spills Putts

Hornell, N. Y., Oct. 17 (AP)—Putting on the sixth green of the Canastota Valley Golf Club, Burton Whitman was about to tap the ball into the cup. A red fox dashed between him and William Simmons, it hesitated between ball and cup, then broke for the woods. Whitman putted wide and Simmons followed suit, missing a three-foot putt by two feet.

The poet's narcissus in many sections of the country is wrongly called a "jonquil." It isn't a jonquil. The jonquil is a little bright yellow narcissus with rush-like leaves, carrying two or three flowers to a stem of delicious fragrance. It is entirely different from the poet's narcissus.

ETHIOPIANS MAY POISON WATER SOURCES

Water wells, such as the one above in Harar, have been marked for poison by Haile Selassie's warriors. Because of the scarcity of water, the sources of supply are strategic points in Ethiopian battle areas. The city of Harar has only one well. (Associated Press Photo)

Will Not Talk Peace Until Italy Quits

spokesman informed the committee that Poland is having ships built in Italy and is paying for them with coal. Poland, he said, needs ships. Do sanctions against Italy mean Poland would not get the ships? was his question.

Maxim Litvinov of Russia agreed that there might be special cases of such as that of Poland which would have to be taken care of by the co-operating nations.

France favored the creation of a special sub-committee to take care of such cases, that is, to study what provision should be made for the exemption of certain transactions with Italy. It was agreed that this sub-committee should be created.

France also proposed the creation of a joint sub-committee to watch over the enforcement of economic and financial sanctions.

Cautious Advance

By ANDRUE BERDING.
(Copyright, 1935, By Associated Press)
Field Headquarters, Italian Occupied Territory in Northern Ethiopia, Oct. 16.—Italian military authorities prescribed today a cautious advance on their next objective of Makale.

Officers said the impending push out of Aduwa on the strategic caravan route center 60 miles to the south, deep in Ethiopian territory, would be carried out gradually.

They took precautions to permit constant maintenance of communications and steady supply of food and other necessities for the troops in their march farther from their base in the colony of Eritrea.

High military authorities expressed a belief, however, that the territory from Aduwa to Makale would prove easier to cover than the rugged, mountainous route to Aduwa in the original advance at the outset of the campaign.

Italian engineers overcame great difficulties in constructing the road from Eritrea to Aduwa, which had to be completed for consolidation of that position before the columns could move on in their occupation.

In this northern section of Ethiopia already occupied by Italy, there were only caravan and cart trails which Italian engineers were called on to convert hastily into roads.

American equipment figured largely in the campaign, and products of the United States were in evidence on all sides.

Hundreds of American-made trucks were carrying food and munitions to the front line troops, running up mountains, down precipices, over gullies and through ravines, sometimes bumping over rocks a foot high.

Thousands of American mules passed over these same roads, but in this territory, the Italians considered that the American mule could not compare with the Eritrean mule.

Engineers told me that the American mules were too big to stand this climate and these roads. Hundreds of them have died. The Eritrean mule is much smaller, and carries less, but seems to have more chance of getting to its destination.

Attention to Defenses

Rome, Oct. 17 (AP)—Italy directed attention to its home defenses today as informed sources expressed concern over relations with Great Britain.

Air force and non-commissioned officers of the class of 1906 (now born in that year) were called out. Officials of the ministries of corporations, agriculture, finance, communications and merchant marine, conferred on detailed measures for facing the food supplies situation, in case league of nations sanctions are applied, and for defense against nations putting sanctions into practice.

Investment replaced the earlier optimism as the dominant mood in the capital's political quarters.

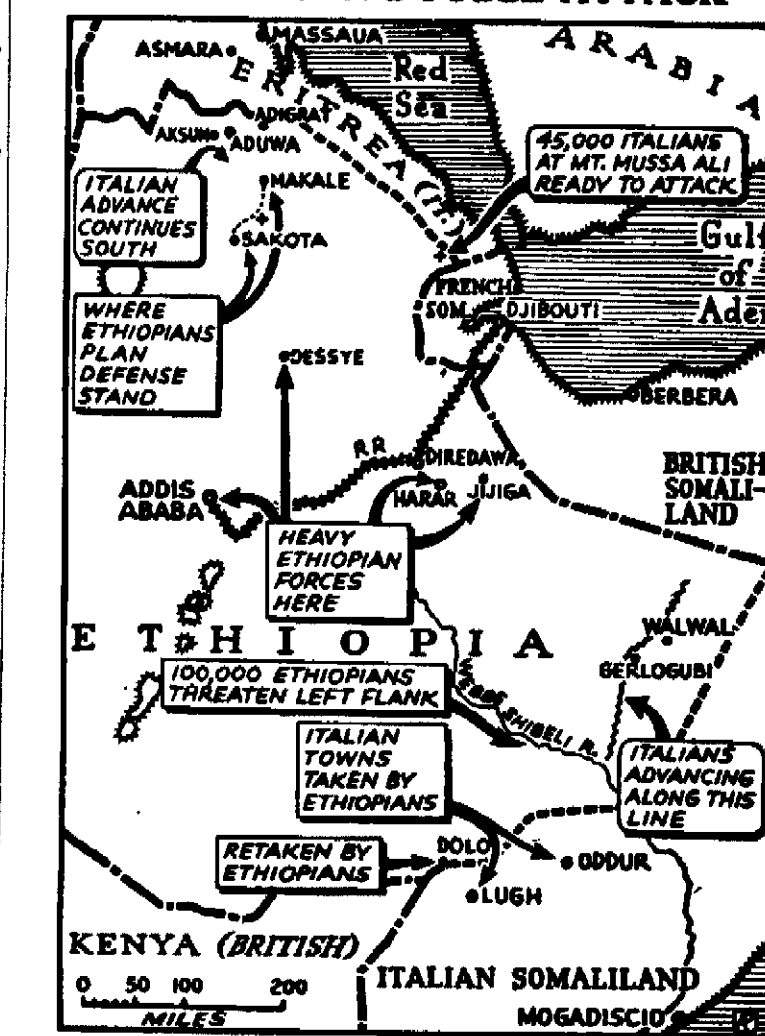

Informed sources said frankly that they were worried lest the tension mounting between Britain and Italy should crystallize with unforeseen rapidity.

Great Britain was portrayed in three different aspects to blockade Italy and hampering the peace efforts of Premier Laval of France. Officially, however, little importance was attached to French moves for settlement of the crisis.

Authoritative explanation that Italy was taking no part in any peace negotiations. They said Britain appeared unlikely to change its attitude in favor of punishment for the conduct of occupation in Ethiopia.

Although it was considered generally that League of Nations sanctions would probably fail to hurt Italy,

ITALIANS IN DOUBLE ATTACK

The Italian forces invading Ethiopia are reported in the midst of two strong attacks, one from the south and another from the north. Hundreds of thousands of Ethiopian troops have been concentrated at strategic points to meet them. Meanwhile, the Ethiopians were reported to have penetrated Italian Somaliland, capturing two important towns.

just how far Britain itself might go was regarded frankly as a problem. The authoritative editor Virginia Gayda, who often reflects most accurately government opinion, wrote in an article in the Giornale D'Italia that sanctions were "slipping toward the extreme eventually."

He said the real conflict, overshadowing the Italo-Ethiopian warfare, was one between Italy, "poor and laborious," and Great Britain, "the opulent empire."

Alexandria, Egypt, Oct. 17 (AP)—Military authorities agreed today that the vast establishment for fighting airplanes, 16 miles east of here would be the real British defense base in the event of a Mediterranean conflict.

This air base, behind the historic bay of Abukir where Admiral Nelson sealed the fate of Napoleon's adventure in Egypt, is the greatest in the near east and one of the most alert in the world.

Authorities estimate that more than 1,200 royal air force planes are here, but all private observers can see is a barbed wire fence along a road which bisects a great field—that, and numerous hangars.

Proof that the site is becoming a congested air base is the fact that officers' quarters are so crowded that their families no longer are admitted. Instead they are sent to Cairo.

New construction discloses also how the royal air force headquarters have been protected by sandbags.

In the last few weeks there has been a continuous arrival of squadrons of seaplanes flying from Great Britain by way of Greece and now anchored in Abukir Bay.

They will be combined with more than 150 planes borne by the aircraft carriers Courageous and Glorious.

Transport workers say many land planes are at Abukir, still unassembled.

Informed quarters say the raising of the arms embargo on Ethiopia by the League of Nations has aroused fears that Italian submarines in the Red Sea or beyond Aden will intercept arms shipments.

For this reason, it is believed, the number of British warships in the vicinity of Aden is being increased. An increase also is apparent in the Persian Gulf.

The newspaper Al Ahram reported that two squadrons of Egyptian planes have been sent to cooperate with British fliers at the newly established base in the western desert at Mersa Matruh. Further detachments of Egyptian infantry have also been sent in that direction, the paper added. Transported from Alexandria in coast guard boats.

The newspaper also reported in some activity in the Cyrenaica western frontier in northern Libya. Italians were reported bringing up fresh troops daily with airplanes, heavy guns and tanks and assembling a heavy force of armored cars.

The newspaper El Ghad, organ of the dominant political party Wafd, said reported gun sniping among Jews in Palestine is causing uneasiness among the Arabs, who have held meetings to discuss the situation.

Will Place Embargo.
Buenos Aires, Oct. 17 (AP)—The Argentine government will place an embargo of armaments to Italy, as ruled by the League of Nations, it was stated authoritatively today.

TESTIMONY OF WITNESSES
ATTACKED IN MOONEY CASE.

San Francisco, Oct. 17 (AP)—An attack of assertedly occult testimony was joined with the oft-repeated charges of perjury today in efforts of attorneys for Thomas J. Mooney to win his freedom from San Quentin prison.

The psychic angle was read into Mooney's habeas corpus hearing here yesterday in an attack on testimony of Mrs. Melite Edson, a witness against Mooney when he was convicted of the San Francisco 1916 Preparedness Day bombing which killed 10 persons.

She explained her having "seen" Mooney at two different places at the same time, said a statement by former police chief Walter J. Peterson of Oakland, Calif., by commenting her "Astral Spirit" could have been in one place and also in the other.

Peterson's statement did not bring out whether it was Mrs. Edson's astral spirit or Mrs. Edson in person who saw Mooney at the scene of the bombing.

TERMS FOR TURTLES.
Post Office Department Issues Orders For Mailing Rabbits.

Washington, Oct. 17 (AP)—The post office department will break no cruelty to baby turtles.

Postmasters were instructed today not to "accept for mailing, baby turtles simply enclosed in a postpaid box."

They must be packed in a "damp, moss-like substance enclosed in strong wooden boxes," and there must be "proper ventilation."

Last Rites For Hardy.
Hollywood, Calif., Oct. 17 (AP)—Hollywood's film colony was in mourning today as plans were completed for the funeral of Sam Hardy, one of its most colorful members.

Last rites for the 52-year-old actor, who died suddenly yesterday after an emergency abdominal operation, will be held tomorrow afternoon. With members of the Managers Club acting as pallbearers, Hardy will be buried in the Whispering Pines section of Forest Lawn Memorial Park, not far from the resting place of his late friend, Will Rogers.

Hardy collapsed on a set at United Artists studio, where he was working in a picture with Eddie Conner titled "Sweet the Charles." Scenes in which he had appeared will be resound.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

New York, Oct. 17 (AP)—A selective buying proved a sustaining force in today's Stock Market, but quiet profit taking in a number of the recent favorites acted as a restraining influence on spurring prices.

A rally in wheat at Chicago, following the paucity liquidation of Wednesday, did not buoy stocks to any great extent. Cotton was little better than even. The dollar was a trifle improved in relation to leading foreign exchanges. Bonds were somewhat hesitant.

Shares of Mack Truck, Curtis Publishing, Owens-Illinois, Swift, Wilson & Co. Preferred, Western Union, American Power & Light Preferred and Union Corp. Preferred advanced 1 to 2 more points. A steady to slightly improved tone was shown by U. S. Steel, General Motors, Auburn, Packard, Briggs Mfg., General Electric, American Telephone, Westinghouse, American Telephone, Consolidated Gas, American Water Works, National Dairy, Borden Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Great Northern and Howland. Moderate losers included Chrysler, Du Pont, Johns-Manville, U. S. Smelting and American Smelting. A new low for the year was touched by Alaska Juneau with the loss of a point.

Alfred G. Vanderbilt's handsome chestnut, Discovery, wound up his campaigning as a four-year-old by romping off with Hawthorne's $18,000 Gold Cup in the easiest sort of fashion. The son of Display is a get a well-earned rest after the strenuous season which netted him over $90,000 for the ten important stakes victories he turned in and brought his life-time earnings to $148,197.

Discovery is entitled to the 1935 handicap championship on the strength of his marvelous record which shows only one defeat since the time he set a new world record in defeating King Saxon and Omaha, the three-year-old champion, in the Brooklyn handicap at a mile and eighth. That lone defeat was in the Narragansett Special when Discovery was asked to carry the back-breaking load of 139 pounds while giving away 29 pounds to a horse like Top Row. That was too much of a handicap for even Discovery to give way over the mile and three-sixteenths route.

Wants Revenge
Bud Stotler, Discovery's trainer, looks back on the season just past with a great amount of satisfaction at the great showing of his thoroughbred charge and at the same time sorry that his horse did not have the opportunity to gain a measure of revenge at Cavalcade a expense for the six defeats Mrs. Dodge Sloane's thoroughbred heaped on Discovery as a three-year-old in 1934. The only time the pair met was in the Suburban Handicap at a mile and a quarter. In that race Discovery lost to Head Play while Cavalcade had the misfortune to tear away the quarters of his right front hoof when the ground broke at the very start.

Now that Cavalcade has grown a new hoof and is ready to return to light training it is likely that his trainer, Bob Smith, will point him for the $120,000 Santa Anita Handicap. Bud Stotler has the same objective in mind for his hand-picked champion. Stotler has a double vengeance—first to win the richest stake ever offered for a horse race and at the same time beat the horse which was Discovery's nemesis a season ago.

Wins Under 140 Pounds
Satton, George D. Widener's five-year-old gelding, is simply a weight-carrying fool. They just can't seem to stop him in the sprints no matter how heavily they load him or how lightly the other horses in the race are weighted. It is nothing for the son of Galatien-Salacia to spot the other entrants 25 or 30 pounds and romp home in front over the six-furlong route.

Satton was loaded down with 149 pounds in the Fall Heavyweight Handicap at Belmont Park yet he breezed home a winner in the sparkling time of 1:10 1-5. He took the Capital Handicap at Laurel, with 136 pounds on his back, by three lengths while other horses in the six-furlong sprint carried 29 pounds less.

The great weight carrier never has his real racing stride until late in the season but when he does it takes more than a back-breaking load to stop him.

K. H. S. Harriers
Beat Bard College

Wednesday afternoon the Kingston High School cross-country team opened its season by overwhelming the team from Bard College at Andale, 15-49.

Captain "Honey" Joe Hart led the field across the finish line in the time of 12:14—within 5 seconds of equalling the all-time record of the course.

The Maroon team swept the first five places, with Leonard, Campbell, Helen and McGrath taking second, third, fourth and fifth, respectively. Cole, of Bard, ran a nice race and the final part, when he hurt his leg and dropped back badly.

Such a fine showing in its first meet forecasts a very successful season for the Maroon harriers. Captain Hart, holder of the 1935 DECO championship in the half mile event, is expected to show his heels to many a field this season. Several other men are veterans of last year's team.

Three To Be Sentenced.
Arlee, N. M., Oct. 17 (AP)—Three Spanish-Americans convicted of second degree murder for the slaying of Sheriff M. R. Carmichael of Gallup, last April 4, were held in custody today while their attorneys began preparing appeals. The men, other defendants in the mass murder trial, acquitted by the jury of participation, remained in custody to await trial on lesser charges for the forcible release of three men who had been held by the sheriff in eviction cases. Judge James B. McGhee delayed sentencing the three convicted, who were Juan Lopez, Manuel Arvin and Leandro Valdez. Defense counsel, assembled to oppose conviction, the American Labor Union and the Gallup Police League, said appeals would be pressed vigorously.

British Tennis Expert Picks Helen Moody and Fred Perry as the Best

New York, Oct. 17 (AP).—Mrs. Helen Moody, the "comeback" queen of the Wimbledon courts, and Fred Perry of England are rated as the world's best tennis players for 1935 in the authoritative rankings of A. Wallis Myers, British court expert.

Mrs. Moody, who probably won't receive any ranking in the United States because she failed to play in the women's national championships, was placed above her California rival, Helen Jacobs, on the strength of her victory in the Wimbledon final.

Myers, whose "world's first ten" is generally accepted as the "official" selection, admitted having considered giving equal rank to the two Helms. Led For Seven Years

Her great performance at Wimbledon, when she trailed Miss Jacobs 2-5 in the third set then rallied to win finally swayed him in favor of Mrs. Moody. Until she retired from competition in 1933 because of an injury, Mrs. Moody had held the top rank for seven years.

Perry, Jack Crawford of Australia and Baron Gottfried Von Cramm of Germany retained the first three places in the men's first ten.

Wilmer Allison, American champion, was placed fourth followed by R. N. Bunny (Austin, England); Donald Budge, Oakland, Calif.; Frank X. Shields, New York; Vivian McGrath, Australia; Christian Bousus, France, and Sidney B. Wood, New York. Budge and McGrath were newcomers to the world rankings.

Following the two Americans in the women's list were Kay Stammers, England; Frau Hilda K. Sperling, Germany; Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabrian, Brookline, Mass.; Dorothy Round, England; Mrs. Ethel Burkhardt Arnold, San Francisco; Miss Rene Mathieu, France; Joan Hartigan, Australia, and Peggy Scriven, England.

Many Nicknames, He Once Had Alias

Detroit (AP).—Gordon Stanley Cochrane, manager of the world champion Detroit Tigers, is a man of many nicknames and one alias.

At Boston University and until the time he joined the Philadelphia Athletics as a rookie he was known as "Kid Cochrane."

During his undergraduate days at Boston he played professional baseball in the summer-time, using the name King as an alias so that he wouldn't be "found out" and barred from college athletics.

Connie Mack's Athletics were a shabby lot the season Cochrane went up from the minors and Cochrane never at loss for a word, could talk as fast as the best of them. Jimmy Dykes tried to silence the upstart one day.

"It seems," said Dykes, "there were two Irishmen, Pat and Mike, and Cochrane you're both of them."

He was "Mike" from then on, until the Athletics gradually lengthened the moniker to "Mickey," the name he has kept.

Baseball writers have tagged him with such names as "Iron Mike," "Mickey Himself," "The Man in the Iron Mask," and "Black Mike."

When Mickey Cochrane went to Detroit a few days after the Tigers bought him for $100,000, the first statement he made is interesting in view of his two-year record manager.

"We are going to give somebody a high battle," avowed the new pilot. "It's going to be a scrambled up race at year (1934) and I think the Tigers have a chance. If everybody else has a lot of fun, we'll have a lot of fun. I'm going to scrap with everybody who just goes through motions."

Cochrane had a lot of fun scrapping. He got hurt at it—physically, times—but his Detroit club won pennants and one world championship in two years.

Cochrane promised the home folks warned the rest that the Tigers 1935 were better than the 1934 team that lost to the Cardinals in the World Series. He wasn't talking. Hank Greenberg had settled down with experience and old Goose Goslin was looking like the Goose. Cochrane was a world series hero with Washington in 1924. Elden Auker, unorthodox pitcher who wasn't used to keep opposition batters out more than a few innings, was along, winning games with ease.

The Tigers were clicking and they the American League flag tucked in their lock before the National League had any idea the Cubs were in the race.

Under the wing of Connie Mack Philadelphia, Cochrane had to shoot all the angles to the top. Just as Mack always placed Cochrane in the occasional line game, Cochrane pitched in a number of games. This produced a record over the St. Louis Browns of 10-10 in 1934. Later, he was traded to the New York Yankees, where he was a big draw in the market.

The Yankees are a big draw in the market. Mickey explains, "I wasn't quite awake and they're scattered as much as I am. I'm not sure."

Cochrane was Mack's strategy. He said, in addition, was able to be the example for his players. When he put himself "on the spot," he was in tight situations and when his legs were so tired

Will Try to Better 8,000 Meters Record

Canton, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Sanctioned by the A. A. U. as an official pre-Olympic tryout, a picked field of distance runners from the Adirondacks regions will meet Saturday in a special 8,000 meters run on the track at St. Lawrence University.

Originally scheduled for the full distance of 10,000 meters, the event was shortened to permit Lou Gregory, Mel Porter, Joe Wood and other stars to make a determined effort at bettering the existing time for the distance. P. J. Kramer holds the present record, having been clocked in 25 minutes 44 seconds at the famous old Celtic Park track in 1912.

Lou Gregory, former Millrose star and a member of the 1932 American Olympic team, is expected to smash this mark on the basis of his recent races. Facing him will be Mel Porter, a last minute entry in this first test of Olympic candidates for the games at Berlin in 1936. Both men were teammates on the Ithaca High School cross country team in their interscholastic days, when the Ithaca boys raced to a perfect score in defeating the Cornell runners.

This incidentally, is the first and only time such a defeat was ever saddled on the Cornellians.

San Francisco—Phil Burbaker, 177, Dinuba, Calif., outpointed Leroy Brown, 171, Charleston, S. C., (8).

Friday night at 7:15 the Amell Bros. team will meet the F. B. Matthews & Co. outfit and at 8:45 the Canfield No. 2 and the Post Office will clash.

The H. S. T. team is now bowling this week. One more team is wanted to complete the roster.

Navy Invades New Haven For Battle With Yale

The Tars of Annapolis versus the Bulldogs of Yale in the Yale bowl is scheduled to command wide attention throughout the east among Saturday's gridiron contests. In the Yale lineup is the powerful Kelly, end, an A-1 star in both defensive and offensive work, while Navy's defense centers around its captain and center, Robertshaw. Roscoe is one of Yale's hard hitting and kicking backs, while Schmidt of Navy, a ten second man, promises to stir up plenty of action with his ball carrying. (Associated Press Photos)

The Eastern Old Guard And Conference Teams

New York, Oct. 17 (AP).—The east lacks a big football conference such as the major western and southern groups, but a couple of times each season it's interesting to see how the "Old Guard" is faring within its limits and against "outside" opposition.

The "Old Guard" is the term generally applied to the seven universities in the eastern baseball and basketball leagues—Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Dartmouth, Cornell, Columbia and Pennsylvania.

Princeton and Yale, each with a victory over Penn., are the ranking teams of the group, as no others have engaged in internal competition during the "tune-up" season. They are rated among the best teams in the east, and the Quakers haven't been disgraced by losing to them.

Won Eight, Lost Four

With Cornell and Harvard in the doldrums, the group has recorded eight victories and four defeats against outside opposition. This week's program should give an even better line on its strength.

Penn. is favored to beat Columbia in the only Old-Guard game of the week. Yale stacks up against Navy, a powerful team to all appearances and one which might be included in the "conference."

Harvard, trimmed by Holy Cross in its only major game so far, clashes with army and appears due to take it on the chin again. Princeton faces its neighbor, Rutgers, in a renewal of football's oldest rivalry.

Dartmouth, winner of three minor games, faces a downtrodden Brown eleven while Cornell, thrice beaten, has a week off before meeting Princeton, Columbia, Dartmouth and Penn in succession.

Aside from these games, most of the interest this week lies in the big intersectional clashes. The Pittsburgh-Notre Dame, Fordham-Vanderbilt, Detroit-Catholic University and Boston College-Michigan State games are among the best prospects.

Alabama Defeated But Not Dismayed

Tulalosa, Ala., Oct. 17 (AP).—It's been quite a drop from the football pinnacle for Alabama's Crimson Tide, but they can take it.

"This is a part of the game," said Frank Thomas of Alabama's loss to Mississippi State close on the heels of the deadlock with Little Howard College.

Not gloomy, but hoping the run of injuries will stop, Thomas expressed belief the Red Elephants are yet to be heard from.

"We just haven't got going yet," he said. "We feel that we'll come right back when the team gets in good shape."

Last year the Elephants went through an undefeated season and clinched the campaign with a sweeping victory over Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT.

(By The Associated Press)

New York—Pedro Montanez, 135, Puerto Rico, outpointed Steve Halaliko, 138, Buffalo, (10).

Winnipeg—Frankie Battaglia, 160, Winnipeg, knocked out Carl Lautenschlager, 154, Germany, (3).

Oakland, Calif.—George Simpson, 174, Spokane, Wash., stopped Nash Garrison, 176, Mexico City, (6).

St. Louis, Mo.—Everette (Young) Rightmire, 126, St. Louis City, outpointed Frankie Genaro, 130, New York, (15). Jackie Elverillo, 149, Davenport, outpointed Pete Mike, 146, Chicago, (15). Al Pahl, 141, St. Louis City, outpointed Lloyd Weaver, 139, St. Louis City, (6).

Harrisburg, Pa.—Jim McMillen, 215, Chicago, threw Ernie Zelliers, 198, Indiana, 38:00.

Experience Was All They Gained Here

New York, Oct. 17 (AP).—Two British teams which came over a few weeks ago for an athletic invasion of the United States will hit the homeward trail tonight with virtually nothing to show for their efforts but a lot of good experience.

The men's Ryder Cup golf team absorbed one of the worst defeats in the history of the series when it was beaten 9-5 at Ridgewood, but the women's Wightman Cup tennis squad lost by only one match, 4-3, at Forest Hills.

Both attributed their defeats partly to lack of experience, and hope for more success next time.

WRESTLING LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Columbus, O.—Stanley Buresh, 180, Australia, threw Bert Rubi, Hungary, 28:00.

Trenton, N. J.—Abe Knashey, 210, Paterson, N. J., defeated Ed Moske, 215, Ohio, two out of three falls.

Cincinnati—Danno O'Mahoney, 219, Ireland, defeated Emil Dusek, 202, Omaha, 21:37½; Joe Savoldi, 200, Three Oaks, Mich., defeated Olaf Olson, Sweden, 10:17.

George Reis Makes New Speedboat Record

Holting Landing, N. Y., Oct. 17 (AP).—George Reis, speed boat racer and three times winner of the Gold Cup, claimed a new world's record of 72.727 miles an hour today for Gold Cup class boats.

In trials sponsored by the Lake George Club and sanctioned by the American Powerboat Association, Reis yesterday sent his 13-year-old El Lagarto over a one-mile course to smash the old mark of 62.29 miles an hour set by Richard Loynes in 1931. He made the run twice and his average time was 49.25 seconds.

The course was a mile straightaway in Northwest Bay, Lake George.

"Harrier" Event in New York

New York (AP).—The 39th annual national senior cross-country run, over a 6¼-mile course, will be held in Van Cortlandt Park here, November 23, under auspices of the Millrose A. A. and sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union. The event, which is for team as well as individual competition, is open to amateur athletes of the world.

The Yankees are a big draw in the market. Mickey explains, "I wasn't quite awake and they're scattered as much as I am. I'm not sure."

Cochrane was Mack's strategy. He said, in addition, was able to be the example for his players. When he put himself "on the spot," he was in tight situations and when his legs were so tired and sure that an ordinary catcher would have retired for at least a week.

Manager Mickey Cochrane himself crossed the plate with the run that won Detroit its first world's baseball championship, scoring on the single slugged out by Goose Goslin. In the background is shown the club's last in the ranks of Detroit's celebration.

His men recall that day last August when Cochrane underwent a minor operation for removal of a cyst under his right eye-lid. Most players would have taken several days to recuperate, but not Mickey. He was back in uniform the next day because the Yanks were becoming troublesome in the pennant chase.

"One of the big reasons we win games is that we get around the bases," Cochrane smiles. "We make the most of the breaks we get. I know that base-running is regarded as a good art, but we make it work!—dead or not. By base law we make the infielders and outfielders hurry and if we can make them hurry they'll make errors."

"I remember what Ty Cobb once said about that. He said always try

Business Girls Hear Rabbi Bloom Address

The announcement that Rabbi Bloom would speak on the topic, "War Clouds over Europe," following Wednesday night's regular supper of the Y. W. Business Girls Club, brought an unusually large attendance at the supper. Between the excellent supper and the address there was some spirited singing by all present, led by Miss Ruth Bell with Miss Estey at the piano.

Miss Bertha Waterman, president of the club members and their visitors who were introduced to the girls of the club. They invited them to come again. Miss Helen Bradburn, chairman of the coming card party to be held at the Y. W. following the supper on Wednesday, November 6, asked all present to help in every possible way to make the party a success, as the Business Girls were counting upon accumulating sufficient funds thereby to materially help out on their annual pledge to the Y. W. Not only bridge, but other games of cards will be played and there will be prizes and light refreshments. Any one desiring to attend the card party may telephone the Y. W. C. A., 1911, to give in her name and to learn the small amount to be charged.

Miss Estey reminded all of the coming annual membership rally to be held at the Y. W. C. A. on the evening of Monday, October 21, beginning at 8 o'clock. In fact all Y. W. members and their friends are asked to be sure to attend this meeting. A play will be given, "Rehearsal at Seven," in which many of the Business Girls Club will take part, and for which Mrs. Frederic Holcomb will be the coach and Mrs. Howard A. Lewis will have charge of the costumes, etc. Several other clubs will have part on the program. There will be a short musical program given by Mrs. Nelson of Hurley, soprano, and Miss Eva Clinton, mezzo-soprano.

Another announcement had to do with the Y. W. Fall Festival which the Young Married Women's Club, cooperating with the Men's Club of the Fair Street Reformed Church, were to hold for four successive Friday evenings in November at the Fair Street Reformed Church, beginning next Friday evening with a program by the Petri Quartette.

Miss Waterman, then introduced Rabbi Bloom who was to speak to them on the subject, "The Vital Background of the European Situation," and on the further war situation next Wednesday evening.

Rabbi Bloom said that it took courage for him to presume to offer his "hunches" and suggestions as to the present tangle that the world is in, and particularly to do so twice. He was not an authority on international situations today, but would speak as a Rabbi, a minister, a moralist who would try to point out the moral implications of the situation.

He came not as an Olympian or one above the battles of life speaking in the abstract, but to think out loud with his audience on the subject. And he would have to begin with almost prehistoric days about which he would try to be brief.

There were two great forces at work in the world, power or might and mind. Sometimes one prevailed and sometimes the other in the long history of mankind. Civilization had been a constant victory of mind over might and by mind the speaker meant spirituality. Since the beginning of civilization there has been much that has been mere pretense, assuming a veneer of culture, a coating of the spirit, while underneath there was jealousy and all the other forces of evil, provocative of combat.

Greece in the middle ages held for slavery, a power for war, but what remained of Greece's power today was not its slavery but the monuments of her intellect, arts, emotions, culture.

The precepts of Christianity were of meekness and humility. Jesus, the Prince of Peace was calm and taught peace and the love of men. The great sages of Israel were calm, too, and lovers of men. The Golden Rule as spoken of by a great Rabbi of Israel, carried the following admonition: "All else is contrary to the teaching of Israel, go learn it."

Yet in every land the people have counted God as being for their particular army.

In the last war, so thought Germany as well as her contestants. While himself a "Militant pacifist," while considering any war justified, the speaker wondered if the holocaust of the present war were to spread if he, too, would catch the frenzy of war insanity or whether he would be strong enough to declare for "peace at any price."

In the spirit spread abroad in 1814-15 during the Congress of Vienna, arose the sentiment "To the Victor Belongs the Spoils," and the same contention was found in 1914 and after the years of that war in 1918 came the "Peace Treaty," "Peace without Victory." Though we had no stakes that was not so in Europe and especially in Germany, and war again was almost the inevitable outcome of that horrible treaty.

Though in every sense regrettable, and though we tried to foster democracy, the right of minorities, etc., etc., the Versailles Treaty had brought about the reaction of Hitlerism, Fascism, Dictatorship, in Germany, Italy and Russia.

The speaker considered that autocracy emphasized war, that any nation which over-emphasized its army was playing into the hands of the war god.

Throughout the ages the voices of the greatest leaders of humanity, those whose thoughts were highest, were against war and for peace.

War is always wrong because aggression is wrong. The defensive side of any war is against the state of mind of those warring the war, which is especially true of those countries which go out after additional territory by means of war.

even though their procedure may not be as blatant as that of Italy in the present war against Ethiopia. Nor can civilization be proud of such aggression even though putting up the pseudo defense of partially going in to another man's land to make him agree to the civilized being that the aggressor is.

Christ and the sages taught that he gives best who gives most, not he gets most who takes most.

Rabbi Bloom asked, "Will we ever reach the point where we will know that it is far better to live for one's country than to die for it?" The highest patriotism is to live for one's country not to give one's blood for one's country. Constructive work, service to others, the helpful side of science and right teaching would soon rid the world of the delusion that service to one's country was plunging it into war.

However the speaker was confident that not in our time will we come to the full realization that wars are not what will carry on the lasting good in civilization and the glory of nations, but wisdom and regard for humanity; the teaching that the power of mind and spirit must be used for the prevention of war, not the foolish idea that war can be waged and won without the cackling idea that it is won without victory as a salute for the conquered.

Next Wednesday evening Rabbi Bloom, having presented the background of thought and history necessary, will devote his talk to the present war conditions in Europe and in the mind of the world.

William Crosby Wins Audition Here

William Crosby, cowboy singer and musician, of 18 Horse street, won the Ray Perkins audition at the American Legion amateur show in the Municipal Auditorium, Wednesday night.

Crosby was picked for the quality of his voice and his ability to pick his big guitar in accompanying himself. He also played several instrumental numbers on his guitar and harmonica much to the delight of the audience.

The money prizes were distributed as follows:

For first place, $15 to Angie Conomos, clever young rhythm dancer from Beacon.

Second place, $10 to Little Jane Velle Kaman, five year old Poughkeepsie singer and dancer.

Third, $5 to Little Geraldine and Marjorie Gardiner, clever little dancers from Kingston.

The Benjamin sisters of Tannersville danced and sang delightfully as did Clinton Armstrong, colored tap dancer from Catskill. These acts were well applauded.

The Cornell street boys, a trio of instrumentalists, also pleased the crowd and so did Don Schneider, Saugerties trumpeter, William McDermott, Irish tenor from the Boiceville CCC camp, and Evelyn Williams, blues singer.

Samuel Riber announced the show and entertained during the intermission with some of his funny stories.

Saugerties Pastor Talks to Men's Club

The Rev. John C. Eason of Saugerties was the guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church, held in Epworth Hall Wednesday night. Mr. Eason's talk was greatly appreciated by the forty or fifty members of the club present, as he spoke of the need of vision on the part of those who would accomplish anything worth while.

Part of the program of the evening was the vocal solos given by Mrs. Clarence F. Wolfersberg, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Tremper. They were very pleasing and were given hearty applause. Chorus singing was enjoyed, with Ed. P. Ward at the piano.

During the session President Raymond Rignall named the committee to prepare for the club's fourth annual minstrel show, one of their big activities of the year. Tickets were also distributed for the annual chicken supper to be served by the men on October 30.

Refreshments were served, following the adjournment of the meeting, after which the dartball enthusiasts of the club got in some practice.

Friday and Saturday Last Days to Register

Friday and Saturday, the 18th and 19th of October, are the last two days of registration and all who desire to vote at the November election must register on one of these dates or they cannot do so.

Registration in Kingston for the first two days tallied 7,371. Election officials anticipate that tomorrow and Saturday will bring out an even larger number for a total registration that will surpass last year's figure of 13,356.

The registration last year on the last two days and the totals for the four days in each of the wards throughout the city was as follows:

Ward	1st	2nd	4Days
1	187	257	726
2-1st dist.	171	328	709
2-2nd dist.	335	500	1,193

Total 3,486 5,985 13,356
The 13,356 total registration for 1934 was 1,843 less than 1933's figure which was 15,199.

Hotchkiss Heads Telephone Co. Here

Eugene B. Hotchkiss has been appointed manager of the New York Telephone Company at Kingston, effective November 1, 1935, according to A. L. Harder, district manager at Kingston. At present, he is manager of the company's office at Liberty where he has been in charge since January, 1934. In coming to Kingston, Mr. Hotchkiss fills the vacancy created in December, 1933, by the transfer of Arthur R. Nelson to Albany as district manager. Since the transfer of Mr. Nelson to Albany Mr. Harder has been active as manager at Kingston, with Wesley L. Thompson as assistant, in addition to his duties as district manager for the territory in this vicinity. The appointment of Mr. Hotchkiss will relieve him of the detailed work and leave him more time for the close supervision of his territory.

Mr. Hotchkiss graduated from Michigan College of Mining and Technology in 1928, entered the employ of the telephone company in January, 1930, and was appointed assistant engineer in the general commercial office at Albany. In April, 1930, he was transferred to the Albany business office as representative and in February of the following year he was assigned to the Troy office.

In December, 1931, Mr. Hotchkiss was appointed special sales representative covering the Troy, Schenectady and Albany areas and served in that capacity until his appointment as manager at Liberty from which position he will be transferred to Kingston.

Mr. Thompson will continue as assistant to Mr. Harder, but with duties extended to embrace those formerly covered by C. N. Smith, who becomes manager at Liberty replacing Mr. Hotchkiss.

Will Hold Dime Social.

Shepherds of Bethlehem, No. 35, will hold a dime social at the home of Rhoda Shaw, deputy supreme commander, 96 East Chester street, tonight at 8 o'clock.
